

Description

Our N-2B Short Winter Parka is modeled after the iconic 1950's US Air Force parka, used by flight crews stationed in extremely cold areas. Much like the original, this modern version of the N-2B features a removable split zipped hood lined with coyote fur, for added protection against the elements. Insulated with PrimaLoft, a lightweight alternative to goose down with similar features used by current military suppliers, this waist length parka is designed to keep you warm.
