

Description

WWI German floatplane surrenders to French sailing vessel

In Downed Bird, Dietz reminds us of the irony of war. The "Brandenburg W29," the finest German floatplane, surrenders to a French sailing vessel. In his attempt to sink the ship, he was shot down himself, and the aircrew now finds itself at the mercy of the sailors on board.

Image Size: 20" x 30"

Public Edition

Limited Edition, Signed and Numbered

Size

20 in x 30 in
---------------	--

